Comments:

Law School grades are recorded as numerical grades for all LAWS-prefixed offerings, unless otherwise explicitly noted in the offering's description. The Pass/Fail grading scale is not available upon request for LAWS-prefixed classes. The median grade in all courses and all seminars in which students are graded primarily on the basis of an examination must be 177. The median grade in all paper seminars, clinics, and simulation classes must be no lower than 177 and no higher than 179. Courses in which all students write papers, as well as courses and seminars in which students have the option to write a paper or sit for an examination, must have a median of 177 or 178. All classes designated as first year electives must have a 177 median, regardless of the basis for grading in those classes. The median grade in first year Legal Research and Writing and Lawyering classes must be 178. The Law School may permit minor deviations from these mandatory medians for classes with very low enrollments when the instructor certifies that the students' performance was unusually strong or weak relative to students' performance in the same class during prior years. In the absence of any contrary statement, it is understood that a student's grade in a course will be based entirely upon the written examination or paper in the class. Professors may choose to add a class participation component to the grade. For students who matriculated in or after Autumn 2019, J.D. students must attain a minimum cumulative GPA of 173.5 at the conclusion of each academic year to maintain satisfactory academic standing. The LL.M. and M.L.S. degrees are awarded to students who have successfully completed 27 course hours over three quarters and who have earned a minimum grade point average of 170.

We continuously update our Symplicity Career Services Management System (<https://law-uchicago-csm.symplicity.com/>) so students, graduates, and employers can have complete and current access to postings at their convenience. Registered employers may post jobs and update employer information directly. No employer fees are charged for this service. Employers using the online system affirm their compliance with our Equal Opportunity, Non-Discrimination, and Anti-Harassment Policies (<https://www.law.uchicago.edu/employers/policies>) at each instance of posting an opportunity. For more information email career_services@law.uchicago.edu.

Are employers permitted to prescreen? No

First Year Students

We welcome job notices directed to first year students at any time during the academic year. However, employers should not initiate formal one-on-one recruiting contact with students, including applications, interviews, or offers to first year students, before December 1. An exception for earlier recruitment is granted to government employers with extensive security clearance processes. Our Winter On-Campus Interview Program is exclusively for first year students: interviews are held in late January/early February. Interviews are held virtually. Like the August OCI program, we rely on Symplicity to manage this program, and the winter procedures and processes closely follow those used for the August OCI Program. There are no registration or service fees for Winter OCI. Employers who register for Winter OCI dates will be asked to affirm their compliance with all conditions set forth in our Equal Opportunity, Non-Discrimination, and Anti-Harassment Policies (<https://www.law.uchicago.edu/employers/policies>).
